CFPB's Closing Disclosure Form...

Section-by-Section

Although the new Closing Disclosure has similarities to the forms it will replace, there are changes in both location and nomenclature for the closing fees. Whether you are inputting the numbers or the lender has taken on that role, you will still need to understand the new form in order to balance and disburse the funds. It's not too early to begin the learning process to assure your lender partners that you are ready and able to handle their transactions. To prepare you for that, Old Republic's Shared Success has developed a webinar titled, "CFPB Sessions".

The "CFPB Sessions" webinar is designed to provide you with a better understanding of the new forms that you'll be seeing when the Integrated Mortgage Disclosure Rule goes into effect in August.

The webinar will be held on the following four dates and times, please select the session(s) that work best for you:

Thursday, January 15th at 10 am, CT REGISTER NOW	Thursday, March 19th at 1 pm, CT REGISTER NOW
Thursday, May 21st at 10 am, CT REGISTER NOW	Thursday, July 16th at 1 pm, CT REGISTER NOW

Unless industry changes arise, the webinar will be the same for each date/time but you are welcome to register for all if you would like to receive the information multiple times. Additionally, a recording of the webinar will be available on the Shared Success website.
